LEADERSHIP SELF REFLECTION

LEADERSHIP STARTS WITH US:

SELF-AWARENESSSS

Self-awareness is about understanding our leadership behaviour and the impact it has upon others – in particular, the people we lead and work with. Implicit in this idea is the knowledge that we choose our patterns of thinking and behaviour - and if we want to, we can create a new way of thinking and leading that are more effective not only for our teams, but for us too.

"When we are leading ourselves well, not only are our own lives better, but we are able to lead and inspire others to be better." - Angela Koning

How we think about ourselves and how we fit into the world has a massive impact on how effective we are in our various roles in life: as a person, friend, partner, parent, team member and manager. The way we think also has a profound impact on our wellbeing – mental, physical and spiritual – and on the way our work translates into outcomes for the organisations we serve.

Leadership coaching helps you to understand what goes on inside your head to make you act the way you do. It's about diagnosing and gently challenging the patterns in our thinking, which come from our values, beliefs and past experiences and drive us to act in certain ways, so that we can become more effective in our lives and work.

HOW CAN WE IMPROVE OUR LEADERSHIP?

ONLY YOU CAN IMPROVE
YOURSELF AS A LEADER, WHEN YOU ARE READY.

BECOMING MORE SELF-AWARE IS
A GREAT WAY TO GET MENTALLY
READY FOR CHANGE.

We understand it can be tricky to get yourself in the right 'head-space' to navigate a change in thinking, and then to stay there when the going gets a little tough.

That's why we're here to help you.

Changing your thinking and behaviour involves:

- Knowing our strengths and weaknesses.
- Accepting ourselves as we are now.
- Understanding how our thinking and behaviour affects ourselves and others.
- Deciding to improve your self-leadership.
- Committing to a simple plan of action to change our thinking and behaviours.

If you're ready to begin to explore your leadership thinking and behaviour, we're here to help you. Start with the questions in the leadership self-reflection and let us know how you go.

LEADERSHIP SELF-REFLECTION

THE ABILITY TO REFLECT ON OUR THINKING AND BEHAVIOUR IN LEADERSHIP LAYS THE FOUNDATION FOR SELF-AWARENESS, AND MAKING A DECISION TO BECOME A BETTER LEADER – NOT JUST FOR OUR TEAMS, BUT FOR OURSELVES, TOO.

1. WHAT IS HAPPENING FOR ME IN LEADERSHIP RIGHT NOW?

POSITIVE

NEGATIVE

2. RANK THESE ITEMS 1 THROUGH TO 12, FROM 1 (MOST LIKE YOU) TO 12 (LEAST LIKE YOU). BE 100% HONEST WITH YOURSELF.

As a leader, I tend to focus on:

- Behaving in a way that avoids calling attention to myself, especially when I'm unsure what to do next.
- Forming and sustaining satisfying relationships with strong, well-developed interpersonal skills, diplomacy and a need to build relationships that are meaningful and reciprocal.
- Getting guidance and direction from others, to make sure I'm doing the right thing before I act.
- Behaving in a way which sees me being accepted by others, as I don't like to stand out too much.
- Withdrawing from situations that might cause conflict, which is something I try to avoid.
- Growth and development of people, inspiring and motivating others, thoughtfulness and a willingness to help people.
- Being the devil's advocate, which often causes me to disagree with others.
- Staying in control of systems, processes and people, so things don't get out of hand.
- Self-development, an energetic and vital approach to life and a strong desire to experience everything life and leadership has to offer.
- Winning, getting to the result first, and being the best in the business.
- The need to get things right before I act, because I'm a bit of a perfectionist and will do anything to avoid making mistakes.
- Accomplishment, ambition, enjoyment of challenges, and the ability to set realistic, attainable goals.

3. WHAT IS GOING WELL FOR ME AND MY TEAM? WHAT GREAT OUTCOMES ARE WE ACHIEVING?

This week: _____

This month: _____

This year: _____

4. WHERE AM I STRUGGLING IN MY LEADERSHIP?

What outcomes are we NOT achieving? Where do I lack certainty in my leadership?

5. WHAT ARE MY TEAM DOING AND SAYING?

Do they appear engaged and valued? Or something else?

6. WHAT LEADERSHIP BEHAVIOURS WOULD I LIKE TO CHANGE SO I CAN BECOME MORE EFFECTIVE?

7. BASED ON MY REFLECTIONS, THE ACTIONS I WILL TAKE TO IMPROVE MY LEADERSHIP ARE:

- ---
- ---
- ---
- ---
- ---

"Courage is endurance, for one moment more." - Unknown.

CONGRATULATIONS

...for having the courage to start thinking about what's working and not working in your leadership. Being able to reflect on your leadership thinking and behaviour is a special skill, which creates insights that most people miss.
